

Privacy Policy

The Adelpia Victim Fund (“AVF”) has created this Privacy Policy to notify users who may submit information on this website, how AVF will use this information. By using this website, you are agreeing to accept the terms of our Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to the terms of this Privacy Policy, please do not submit your personal information via the website or use this website in any way.

The Information AVF Collects

This Privacy Policy applies to all information collected or submitted on this website. In order to request a claim information packet electronically, you will need to provide personal information, such as your name, address, e-mail address, phone number, and other relevant information.

Use of the Information

If you provide us with personal information, we will retain and use the information for the purpose of sending you a claim information packet. Your personal information will be entered into our secure database, which will allow AVF to create a record for each potentially eligible claimant. In processing your claim, we are acting on behalf of the Department of Justice and the Securities and Exchange Commission. AVF does not sell or otherwise disclose anyone’s personal information for any other purpose.

Contact Information

If you have any questions, concerns, or comments about AVF’s privacy policy you may contact us either:

By e-mail: info@adelpiafund.com

By Phone: (866) 446-4884

AVF reserves the right to make any necessary changes to this policy, and any changes to this policy will be promptly posted on this website.
